Course Description
This course is about terror in Europe from secular revolutions to post-colonial impressions. It presents a broad sweep of literature and locates Islamist radicalism at the long-standing intersection of Christian and Muslim encounters. Particular themes range from authority and identity to ethnic and religious conflicts. The course explains that religious terror is a European production as much as it is a European question, and addresses specific evidence through the lens of original sources such as novels and debates. The prerequisite is sophomore standing or the instructor’s approval.

Course Objectives
At the end of the course, students should be able to identify Christian-Muslim conflicts in Europe, demonstrate an understanding of socio-politics, analyze European socio-politics with empirical evidence, and ready for advanced European and Islamic studies.

Required Materials and Supplies Fees
Readings and recommended materials will be posted on the e-learning website. There is no required textbook for this course. There are no additional fees for the course.

Evaluation of Grades
This course includes the following assignments alongside lectures and discussions. Be willing, engaged, and punctual: attend the lectures, participate in discussions, and complete your reading/writing assignments on time.

1. Participation and quizzes (5/15 points). Students will write three short quizzes including multiple choices and brief explanations.
2. Mid-term (30 points). The mid-term examination is scheduled on Week 9. Professor will provide guidelines and address questions about this exam.
3. Take-home Final (30 points). The final examination will draw from lectures and select readings, and will be due on the last meeting of class. A review class will provide guidelines and address questions about this exam.

4. Book review (15 points). By Week 5, students will submit a 4-page abstract on a text of their choice with the approval of the professor. Original abstracts capture the core of a book’s arguments and its themes. Examples will be provided.

5. Attendance (5 points). Attendance will be recorded during meetings and students are expected to attend all the classes except in the case of an emergency.

Please note that all the readings and written assignments must be completed by the date indicated on the syllabus and cannot be rescheduled. Requests of any special accommodations must be made to the professor in writing and in advance. You are welcome to discuss any of these assignments with the professor. Though the instructor reserves the right to make changes to this syllabus (with an in-advance warning if deemed necessary), the assignment schedules and UF regulations will stand at all times.

Class Attendance and Make-Up Policy

Attendance and participation are required for success. They not only constitute 5% of your grade. Repeated absences also affect your performance on exams and quizzes since they will be based on lectures and discussions. Missing class likewise means missing participation and falling behind in other assignments.

According to the Office of the University Registrar, “acceptable reasons for absence from class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, and professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused.”

For further information about the University of Florida’s attendance policy, please see the current Undergraduate Catalogue.
Students Requiring Accommodations
Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

University Honesty Policy
UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor.

Class Demeanor
Students are expected to arrive to class on time and behave in a manner that is respectful to the instructor and to fellow students. Please avoid the use of cell phones and restrict eating to outside of the classroom. Opinions held by other students should be respected in discussion, and conversations that do not contribute to the discussion should be held at minimum, if at all.

Course Evaluation
Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at https://evaluations.ufl.edu. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/.
