Required Textbook:

Reading Into a New China – Deciphering a Changing Society. 《变化中的中国》，
Second Edition. Duanduan Li and Irene Liu. Cheng & Tsui, 2017.
Volume 2: ISBN 9781622911264
Audio files download: <https://www.cheng-tsui.com/node/5573>

Description:

The purpose of this course is to build on the linguistic skills acquired in the first two years of Chinese to further train students in advanced use of the language, including conversation, reading, writing and translation. In the process, students are also introduced to the contemporary Chinese society and cultural developments in its social context. Grades are based on both the level of achievement and the progress made during the course. Students are required to read both simplified and traditional texts, but may write one text of their choice.

SPECIAL REQUEST

“Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation.” <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/index.php/drc/>

Six lessons are studied during the semester -

Lesson 11 《黄昏之恋》，Lesson 12 《女性走向厨房》，Lesson 13 《贝贝进行曲》，
Lesson 14 《双独家庭》，Lesson 15 《离婚潮》，Lesson 16 《中国经济发展动态》.

Course Requirements:

Attendance, Participation and Performance (10%) in class will affect your grade, but more importantly failure to attend class will seriously impair your ability to learn Chinese. You are allowed to have three unexcused absences. Each additional unexcused absence after the 3rd will result in 1% deduction from the final grade of the course.

Make-up presentations, quizzes, tests, and late homework and and late papers will NOT be accepted unless mitigating circumstances are declared, which requires appropriate documentation for consideration. Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found in the online catalog at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>

Medical related absences including disability related absences may not exceed 6 class times due to interfering with the essential course requirements. Each additional medical related absence after the 6th will result in 1% deduction from the final score.

For an excused absence: You need to contact the office of the Dean of Students at dsocares@dso.ufl.edu by email or call 352-294-2273 to request assistance by phone. The office of the Dean of Students will alert your instructor and certify the related documentation.

Students who work with the Dean of Students Office or are registered with the Disability Resource Center are responsible for providing related documentation.

Please be punctual.

If you are late to class, you will not be given extra time to complete the exams and quizzes. If you are more than 5 minutes late three times without your instructor's consent, they will be counted as one absence. If you are more than 25 minutes late, it will be considered as one absence. If you leave 10 minutes prior the end of class without your instructor's permission, it is counted as one absence as well.

Participation in class discussion is important and will affect your overall grade. The vocabulary, grammar as well as the content in the assigned text will be discussed during the lecture. You will be expected to read through the text and the grammar notes before coming to class. You will be asked questions related to what you are supposed to prepare. Using electronic devices (smart phone, ipad, computer etc) in class without the instructor's approval will receive ZERO for class participation and performance.

Homework assignments (10%) (including written exercises and compositions) should be handed in at the beginning of class on the due date. All homework need to be downloaded and printed out from Canvas/files/homeworkanswersheet. If not done in the require answer sheet, homework will not be graded nor corrected. Late homework assignments will NOT be corrected and no points will be given. No electronic copy (via email) will be accepted. Students are responsible for submitting only the hardcopy (paper copy).

Quizzes (10%): There will be a vocabulary quiz and a grammar quiz for each lesson. Vocabulary quiz focuses on the writing, pronunciation and English translation for the new vocabulary of each lesson. Grammar quiz is to test how to use the new vocabulary, grammar patterns and idioms in context. No make-up quizzes will be given.

Oral assessments (20%): include a presentation, a skit and a debate. Each assessment will focus on one of the themes of the semester 家庭, 婚姻, 孩子, 经济. Instructions will be given two weeks before the assessment.

Chapter tests (40%): three chapter tests will be given for every two lessons learned. Chapter tests will cover all course materials discussed in class and homework assignment questions.

Research 研究报告 (2-3pages) and final presentation (Drafts 3%, final paper 5%, presentation 2%, 10% in total).

Students will explore one research area related to marriage, family and children in America and/or China. The topic should be specific in one area. The topic of your choice for your research paper is due March 13th, two drafts are required before submitting the final paper. Drafts are due on March 23rd and April 9th. The hard copy of final paper is due in class on April 25th. No electronic copy or late submission will be accepted.

Students will give a final presentation on their research paper during the last two weeks of class using Powerpoint notes. Detailed instruction will be given in class.

Character recognition: students taking this class should make efforts to read both simplified and traditional characters. They may choose to write only one version.
