COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course explores religion’s role in both intentional social change (e.g., social movements) and other forms of cultural, economic, and political transformation. We will focus on some key questions such as the following: Is religion an anaesthetizing or motivating force in struggles for social change? What can religion contribute to modernization and democratization? What factors shape the social character and role of religion? How does religion relate to other forces for or against social change? And how do different theoretical frameworks help us understand all these different processes? We explore these in relation both to classic theorists of religion and social change, especially Weber and Marx, and also contemporary studies from the U.S., Latin America, and more.
POLICIES AND RULES

1. Honor Code: On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The university specifically prohibits cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation, bribery, conspiracy, and fabrication. For more information about the definition of these terms and other aspects of the Honesty Guidelines, see http://www.chem.ufl.edu/~itl/honor.html. Any student(s) demonstrated to have cheated, plagiarized, or otherwise violated the Honor Code in any assignment for this course will fail the course. In addition, violations of the Academic Honesty Guidelines shall result in judicial action and the sanctions listed in paragraph XI of the Student Conduct Code.

2. Late or Make-Up Assignments: You may take an exam early or receive an extension on an exam or essay assignment only in extraordinary circumstances and with prior approval from the instructor. If an extension is not granted, the assignment will be marked down ½ grade (e.g., from B+ to B) for each day late.

3. Attendance and Participation: Class attendance is required. Poor attendance will harm your course grade. Students should arrive on time and prepared to discuss the day’s readings.

4. Common Courtesy: Cell phones and other electronic devices must be turned off during class. Students who receive or make calls during class will be asked to leave. You may take notes on a laptop computer, although the instructor reserves the right to ask you to turn off the computer if circumstances warrant. The instructor also reserves the right to ask any student engaging in disruptive behavior (e.g., whispering, reading a newspaper) to leave the class.

5. Accommodation for Disabilities: Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student, who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation.

6. Counseling Resources: Resources available on-campus for students include the following:
   a. University Counseling Center, 301 Peabody Hall, 392-1575, personal and career counseling;
   b. Student Mental Health, Student Health Care Center, 392-1171, personal counseling;
   c. Sexual Assault Recovery Services (SARS), Student Health Care Center, 392-1161, sexual counseling;
   d. Career Resource Center, Reitz Union, 392-1601, career development assistance and counseling.

7. Software Use: All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.
REQUIREMENTS AND WRITING ASSIGNMENTS
Undergraduates: This class fulfills the University writing requirement (WR2). Undergraduates must complete at least 2000 words of writing during the semester. Please ensure that your written work fulfills the minimum word requirement.

1. Complete all required readings by the date assigned. Be prepared to spend time on these books. Read carefully, so that you are prepared to ask questions about and discuss the assigned reading in each class.

2. Participate actively in class discussions. There will be five unannounced reading quizzes during the semester to check participation and engagement. 10% of final grade.

3. First essay on Weber and Weberian Tradition. 1000 words for undergraduates; 2000 words for grad students. Due by midnight on Sunday, 2/10. 30% of final grade (25% for grads).

4. Second essay on Marx and Marxist Tradition. 1000 words for undergraduates; 2000 words for grad students. Due by midnight on Monday, 3/11. 30% of final grade (25% for grads).
