Course Description:
Religious extremism, or similar words like radicalism, fanaticism, fundamentalism, is frequently used in the media and the policy world. But what is religious extremism? How do we define extremism? Who are the extremists? And, is religious extremism meaningful and useful as a concept? This course digs into these questions and provides students with critical knowledge about what is called extremism within the major religious traditions, such as Islam, Christianity, Judaism, Hinduism, and Buddhism. The course focuses on current affairs – in different contexts across the globe. It critically explores what we mean with religious extremism, juxtaposing it with the assumed moderate.

Course Objectives
A student who successfully completes this course will be able to:

- Analyze the current discourses and dynamics in the study of Global Islam
- Identify and analyze both the commonalities and the diversity within Global Islam
- Apply relevant theoretical perspectives and analyze the intersection of Islam with social, political, and cultural issues in different parts of the world
- Critically analyze Islam and trans-nationalism, migration, and global inter-connectivity
- Analyze the various perspectives on gender and feminism found within Global Islam
- Map out and identify the interrelations between Islam and other religions in a global context
- Understand and analyze the main currents with regard to Islam and politics in a global context

Course Requirements and Grading Criteria
The final grade for undergrads will be determined by the total scored for:

- Attendance and participation in classroom discussions (5%). We will circulate an attendance sheet, which you should sign. Signing for others is considered Academic dishonesty.
- In-class presentations (15 %)
- 4 Mini research papers (20 % each: 4 x 20% = 80%)

Attendance and Classroom Participation: Students are expected to attend ALL classes and participate actively in class discussions. Active and informed participation demands that students read the material carefully before coming to class. The instructor will seek to engage all students in discussions by asking direct questions to the students, and by for comments to the readings. The instructor will keep a log for each week, noting the degree of engagement and level of insights demonstrated.

In-class presentations: Each student will give an in-class presentations on a topic related to the assigned readings. The presentation will be 10-15 minutes, and the student presenting will lead the subsequent classroom discussion. The presentation will be evaluated based on the student’s comprehension of the material, degree of independent and critical thinking, and ability to communicate the material clearly.

4 Response Papers (4-5 pp): Each student will write research papers wherein you choose an actual incident or a case related to the theme of Religious Extremism. You will investigate the case (using media and other sources) and analyze in relation to the readings, lectures and class discussions. The objective of think critically about what is addressed in the readings and class discussions and apply to real-life cases. The format for the papers is double space / font size 12.

Course Requirements and Grading Criteria – Graduate Section
The graduate students will follow the lectures for the course, do the readings for each lecture, do in-class presentations, and submit the assigned papers. In order to get the course registered as a graduate course, there is, however, some additional work as listed below.

2 Review Papers (6-7 pp): In addition to the 4 mini research papers and the presentation, you will have 2 assignments which is to write a review of different books. The format for the papers is double space / font size 12. You will also meet with me 2 times (1/2 hour) during the semester to discuss the readings and assignments. These meetings will be during my office hours, and you should email me in advance with your questions and/or the texts which you would like me to comment on.

The final grade for grads will be determined by the total scored for:

1 A review is more than a synopsis; it entails giving your (argued) opinions on the text
- Attendance and participation in classroom discussions (5%). We will circulate an attendance sheet, which you should sign. Signing for others is considered Academic dishonesty.
- In-class presentations (15%)
- 4 Mini research papers (10% each: 4 x 10% = 40%)
- 2 grad papers (15% each: 2 x 15% = 30%)

Make-ups and Attendance:
Make-ups will only be allowed in unavoidable circumstances or for compelling reasons that can be convincingly documented. Similarly, absence(s) means that 1 point per absence will be detracted – except unavoidable ones proven with satisfactory explanation/documentation. This is in consistence with university policies that can be found at: https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx

Class Demeanor:
Students are allowed to use laptops in class, but only for purposes related to class (i.e. taking notes). The use of cell phones is prohibited during class. Tardiness will not be accepted, and arrival 10 minutes late will count as an absence.

Student Honor Code:
As a UF student, you have agreed to follow the university’s Honor Code, meaning you will not give or receive unauthorized assistance in completing assignments. Violations can result in failing an exam, paper or the course. For more information, see: http://www.dso.ufl.edu/studentguide/studentrights.php. On all work submitted for credit by University of Florida students, the following pledge is implied, “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” Please note that acts of plagiarism include:
- Turning in a paper or assignment that was written by someone else.
- Copying verbatim a sentence or paragraph of text from the work of another author without proper citation and quotation marks.
- Paraphrasing or restating in your own words, text or ideas written by someone else without proper citation.
